

Estillo 30

Blue Grey

The Estillo 30 Slate is quarried in Carballada de Valdeorras in the La Bana region in North West Spain. This is highly regarded as one of the finest slate deposits in all of Spain.

This La Hebra slate is a dark blue grey to black slate, with a regular vertical grain, a smooth and consistent texture, and occasional small non-oxidizing metallic minerals scattered on the surface of the slate.

It's physical and aesthetic qualities make it sought after both in restoration, new construction and specialist projects adapted to regional traditions. Although this slate is not officially recognized and approved by the Snowdonia National Park Authorities as an alternative Welsh Dark Blue Grey slate, other La Hebra slates, like the Samaca Q33 we also stock are, and this is testament to both the excellent appearance and performance characteristics that this type of slate offers.
